TRIFORGE

THE 90-DAY OPERATING SYSTEM

Ninety dated pages. One action a day. A win condition you can tick and a line to write in.

Not medical advice. Not an income promise. A schedule and a set of removals.

BY TRIFORGE.HQ

READ THIS ONCE.

Do not read the whole thing. Read this page, then turn to Day 1.

Every day has three parts: the ACTION, the WIN CONDITION, and a line to write in. Tick the win when it is done. Write the line even if it is one word.

If you miss a day, do not restart. Do the day you are on. The pages are numbered so you can see the shape of ninety days, not so you can fail at them.

If you miss two in a row, read THE RELAPSE PROTOCOL in the back before you continue. It exists because this will happen.

There is nothing to buy after this. No upsell, no community, no coaching. The whole system is in your hands tonight.

WHAT THIS IS NOT

Not medical advice. Not a diagnosis. Not an income promise. If something here feels medically wrong, stop and see a doctor.

WHEN YOU MISS.

This will happen. The protocol is not for avoiding it — it is for the morning after.

1. STOP THE CLOCK, KEEP THE LESSON

The day counter resets. Nothing else does. You still did the work. A slip is one night; a spiral is a month. The difference is what you do before you sleep.

2. THE FIRST HOUR AFTER

Do not go back to bed with the phone. Get up, drink water, go outside. The next hour decides whether this is a slip or a collapse.

3. TELL ONE PERSON

Not the internet. One person, honestly, tonight. Secrecy is what turns a bad evening into a bad month.

4. DO NOT REBUILD THE PLAN

The instinct is to design a new system. That is avoidance with a spreadsheet. Tomorrow you do the smallest version of the same thing.

5. NEVER MISS TWICE

One missed day is life. Two is the start of a pattern. The whole game is played at the second one.

THE MONEY BLOCK

EIGHT WEEKS TO A FIRST YES.

WEEK ONE — THE SKILL

One skill. Written down. Five people found who already sell it.

WEEK TWO — THE SAMPLES

Three samples, ugly and finished. Nothing is polished. Polished is a way of not starting.

WEEK THREE — THE ASK

Ten messages a day. Short, specific, about their problem. Not your skills.

WEEK FOUR — THE PRICE

One job, one price, one deadline. Say the number out loud.

WEEK FIVE — THE FIRST YES

Do the work well. Underpromise the timeline. Overdeliver quietly.

WEEK SIX — THE REPEAT

Go back to the first client. Same work, easier to sell, no new trust needed.

WEEK SEVEN — THE SYSTEM

Same job, fixed price, written down. Now it is a product.

WEEK EIGHT — THE PROOF

Collect the receipt. Screenshot it. That number is worth more than any post.

No guarantees. Most people never open what they buy.

NINETY DAYS AT A GLANCE.

One row a week. Tick what held. Be honest — this page is for you, and a lie here costs you the ninety days.

DAY NINETY

Read this page when you finish. Then read it again in a year.

You did ninety days. Nobody saw most of it. That was the point — the work that gets witnessed is the work that gets performed.

What you have now is not motivation. It is a record: ninety days of a man doing what he said he would do when nobody was checking.

That record is worth more than the result. Results can be luck. A record cannot.

Do not start over. Start the next ninety having kept the four things that worked and dropped the rest without ceremony.
